2004-03-01

Panel discussion: the challenges of European integration: views from "old" and "new" Europe

Scwhan, Gesine

Boston University Institute for Human Sciences

http://hdl.handle.net/2144/20113

Boston University
GESINE SCHWAN has been President of the Europa-Universität Viadrina since 1999. She studied Roman Languages, History, Philosophy, Political Science in Berlin and Freiburg/Breisgau and had several research stays in Poland (Warsaw and Krakow). From 1971 until 1995 she was Professor of Political Science at the Free University of Berlin, serving as Dean from 1993 to 1995. She has been a Member of the “Commission for Fundamental Values” of the Social Democratic Party of Germany and, since 1994, a member of the Board of Governors of the German Association for Political Science. Dr. Schwan has published extensively on normative and philosophical problems of theories of democracy and socialism, on the history of political ideas, on political psychology, and on current political issues (policy of the two Germanys, détente policy, European unification). She has been awarded a Bundesverdienstkreuz (Federal Cross of Merits) and a Verdienstorden der Bundesrepublik Deutschland (Medal of Merits Federal Republic of Germany).

AGNIEWSKA MAGDZIAK-MISZEWSKA was appointed Consul General in April 2001. She is also President of the Polish branch of Women in International Security. She is a graduate of the University of Warsaw where she studied Polish philology. From 1991 to 1995 she served as counselor-minister at the Polish Embassy in Moscow. Between 1995 and 2001 she was deputy editor-in-chief of the Catholic monthly Wie? and from 1999 to 2001, advisor to Prime Minister Jerzy Buzek on Polish-Jewish relations.