Sayyid Abdallah bin Ali bin Nasir. Al-Inkishafi. The Soul’s Awakening. Translated from the Swahili Texts and Edited by William Hichens. Nairobi: Oxford University Press, 1972 (1939, The Sheldon Press.) Composed sometime in the early 19th century, this poem, containing 79 stanzas of four lines each, is concerned with celebrating the Attributes of Allah. It is given in Roman script with facing English translation. Finally it is presented in the original Arabic script of three separate copyists. PL8704.A33 IS 1972

Lyndon Harries. “Strung Pearls: A Poem from the Swahili-Arabic Text.” Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies. 15, 1 (1953): 146-156. The poem presented here is the same as that found in Werner (1929) below and is given in Roman script with English translation but only the first 12 stanzas are presented in the Arabic script original. http://www.jstor.org/stable/608890
